Evidently the Nokomis ATV Club officers and board members thought they could get out of working the fundraiser event by hiding out along the ATV route. Since our old friend, Scavenger Hunter, did such an incredible job last year rounding up all the escaped circus animals, the club members recruited him to go out and find those 11 unscrupulous board members.

_____ Knowing what a patriotic guy Larry is, Hunter knew right where to start looking, but it wasn't as easy as he thought. Well, "son of a birch" a big guy like that shouldn't be so hard to find. Larry thought he was really rockin it and loved seeing Hunter so frustrated – until he wasn't!!!

_____ As a last resort, Vicki and Gregg decided they wouldn't need to go that far to escape to the Bay. To pass the time they were enjoying listening to the Brewer/ Twins game. You'd have thought they won a blue ribbon as excited as they were to have so cleverly escaped. Or so they thought, but they didn't know Hunter!

_____ It wasn't all that hard for Hunter to figure out that Gladi would want to get signed in for the 4:00 Sunday drawing while hiding out. To his surprise, she wasn't in the bar so he had to search high and low and almost gave up until a little birdie gave him a clue.

_____ Hunter then decided he'd have to hit the trail as he had a feeling that's where he'd find the trail boss. It seemed like he had been riding forever and yet it was only a little over 5 1/2 miles when he decided he needed to stop for a cold one. He sure was feeling all of his 51 years!! Where to head next? So many bars in every direction.

_____ He decided it wouldn't be too long before he'd need another snort and he'd bet a buck he knew just where to look as he figured John would be trying to get in a little musky fishing while hiding out. A sport Hunter himself was a little rusty at. Turns out he knew John pretty well!

_____ Back on the trail Hunter decided that being such a beautiful day he could afford to take a short break for a little picnic by the water. He was enjoying the peace and quiet until he heard what sounded like someone snoring and to his surprised there was Grant sleeping like a log!

_____ Enough of a break if he was going to find the rest of the crew before day's end. Sure enough, it wasn't long before he found Thor trying to impersonate a bar owner by the same name. When Thor saw Hunter pull up he made a quick escape out the patio door where Hunter found him just a swinging in the breeze!!

_____ (Bonus) Take a selfie picking up any trail trash or trail clean up while on the ride.

_____ After finding Thor, Hunter figured Mallory couldn't be far away. He wouldn't be surprised if she wasn't camping out, but no one would admit seeing her. After hours of searching to no avail, Hunter began to shutter, just thinking about what might have happened to her. Not one to give up, he continued his search until he found our little Miss Mallory!

_____ Hunter had really worked up an appetite when he realized it was Tuesday burger day and boy could he go for one of Jane's juicy burgers with a cold tapper. Being a pretty clever lady, it wasn't going to be easy finding sneaky Jean, but first Hunter realized he was going to have to shed some clothes as the day had really warmed up. He was beginning to feel things were stacked against him, until as luck would have it, she turned up!

_____ Hunter had again worked up a thirst and thought a little swamp water might hit the spot while he searched for Dave. Just the thought of really fresh swamp water made him drool. He was really pumped and decided it was time to call it a day and take the would-be elusive board members back to The Loop Hole and put them to work!!

He heard there was a really big party going on at the LoopHole and that sounded a heck of a lot more fun than searching for the Board members, especially after hearing on JJQ that all of the board members were now at the party!
